Highlights

The assessment of February 2022 shows the Average Total Data Quality Score (TDQS) at the same high level as in the previous month, while the Total Data Quality Score Trend displays an increase toward the second half of the month. As LEI Issuers continue to update LEI Records to meet the new standards introduced in August 2021, the average numbers in the Top 5 Failing Checks reflect the overall improvements. The average number of days to close a challenge remains the same as the previous month, with well below the target of ten days.
